CATCO is Kids, Columbus School for Girls Co-Produce Haroun and the Sea of Stories May 3-12

Adaptation of Salmon Rushdie's classic children's novel is Ohio Premiere

CATCO is Kids and Columbus School for Girls will co-produce Haroun and the Sea of Stories, an adaptation of Salmon Rushdie's classic children's fantasy novel filled with magicians and fantastical talking animals May 3-12. The production is an Ohio premiere.

Haroun and the Sea of Stories, published in 1990 by one of the world's best-known contemporary storytellers, features the journey of a small boy, who sets out on an adventure to restore the poisoned source of the Sea of Stories. The adaptation for the stage by David Tushingham and Tim Supple "will be a feast for the eyes, ears, mind and soul," said Liz Bishara, middle school theater instructor and director at CSG and co-director of Haroun along with Joe Bishara, CATCO associate producing director.

"In Haroun and the Sea of Stories young and old alike will be captivated by the spell-bounding stories, fascinating characters and wild adventures in this children's classic in the same genre as Alice in Wonderland and The Wizard of Oz," Joe Bishara said.

When the book was first published, Newsweek called it "a tribute to the pleasures and terrible powers of storytelling." Said the Boston Sunday Herald: "Like all good fables and fairy tales, Haroun and the Sea of Stories yields its riches on many levels. Readers will relish the wordplay and multilingual punning."

All performances will be held in at the Agnes Jeffrey Shedd Theater at Columbus School for Girls, Columbus Performing Arts Center, 56 S. Columbia Ave. Tickets are $15 for adults, $10 for children. Show times are Fridays, May 3 and 10, at 7 p.m.; Saturdays, May 4 and 11, at 2:30 p.m.; and Sundays, May 5 and 12, at 2:30 p.m.
